Personnel Notes

Lau is an expert field agent known for her keen sense of observation, fierce loyalty, and cold pragmatism.

A second generation Chinese-American, Lau's parents were killed in a car crash when she was a teenager, leaving her to raise her younger sister. Owed, in part, to the loss of her parents, Lau has kept a distance from intimacy for much of her life, having regarded it as a potential disruption to her education and career. Now that the virus has hit, however, Lau has realized that she may be more attached to the people around her than she previously believed.

Lau later joined ROTC at City College, after which she excelled through the upper echelons of intelligence and national security. After a field accident left her paralyzed from the waist down, Lau now serves as a "handler", responsible for the base's maintenance and collecting and giving intel to the player.

Competitive, driven, and full of grit, there is no question in Lau's status as a devoted patriot or her belief in the system. Though her peers typically regard her as a strong, serious woman, she has a caustic sense of humor, a knack for knitting, and a secret love of romantic movies.
